10,000 of Nazis Trapped By Russ In Ukraine Dead

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Systematic extermination by the Red Army of 10 encircled German divisions in the upper Dnieper bend was well under way today, the army newspaper Red Star said, while the main Soviet forces continued to forge westward from the Ukraine to the Baltic.

A communique indicated nearly 10,000 of the trapped Germans already had been killed.

The situation west of Cherkassy, where nine infantry and one tank divisions have been trapped by a great five-day offensive, presented "the same picture as Stalingrad," Maj. Pavel Orendar said in a Red Star dispatch.

Thousands of German units have become "groups of wanderers" within the ring which the troops of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin and Gen. Ivan S. Konev are tightening around them, Orendar asserted.

The Germans were said to be in a Red Star dispatch. "The situation is very serious," the dispatch said, "and the number of survivors is small."

No dispatches estimated number of surrounded Germans, but it seems safe to assume the total was in the neighborhood of 100,000.

A dispatch to Izvestia said the situation of the trapped Germans could be gauged from some of their messages which had been intercepted.

There were no Russian reports from the sector farthest west where Gen. Vatutin's 1st Army of the Ukraine was last reported closing in on Rovne from three sides, but there was reason to believe that front was active again.

NARVA BY-PASSED
At the Baltic end of the 1,200-mile front the Russian army commanded by Gen. Leonid A. Govorov by-passed Narva on both the north and south and indications were that the Germans had waited too long to evacuate the city. There may be another large loss in lives and equipment there.

'People Here So Nice' Says Princess Juliana, Given Official Welcome

(See Page 9 for pictures and story of Princess Juliana.)

Grey skies failed to mar the enthusiasm of the crowd of Victorians who thronged Belleville Street to the C.P.R. docks to catch a glimpse of H.R.H. Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands on her arrival from Seattle at 12.35 today.

They saw Princess Juliana wearing a brown sable coat over a brown suit, turquoise Dutch cap atop her fair hair and medium-heeled brown suede pumps with sheer net stockings. All eyes were on the royal visitor as she paused to speak to members of the Netherlands community led by L. J. Eekman and grouped together at Belleville and Metz Streets.

Two figures stood out in the little group. They were Miss C. Zuur who spoke to the Princess in her native tongue after presenting her with a bouquet of flowers and little Sandrina in costume replete with wooden clogs and starched white lace cap. From the latter Princess Juliana received colonial bouquet of pink tulips tied with the colors of the House of Orange.

As the royal visitor left the little group, Mr. Eekman led them in three rousing cheers while the Esquimaux Garrison band played "Wilhelmus Van Nassau," song of the House of Orange-Nassau.

The shy Princess arrived accompanied by her secretary, W. Van Tets, and Mrs. Van Tets, who is acting as her lady-in-waiting.

After the Princess came the official welcoming party which had boarded the Ss. Princess Charlotte greeted Juliana in the narrow passageway at the head of the main stairway running from the landing deck to the observation deck.

With Lieutenant Governor W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward were Premier John Hart and Mrs. Hart, Mayor Andrew McGavin and Mrs. McGavin, Capt. W. J. M. Watson, Armstrong, consul of the Netherlands for B.C., and Maj. Glen C. Holland, vice-consul at Victoria.

After inspecting the official guard of honor composed of 100 soldiers from Work Point Barracks, headed by Capt. W. E. Wait, the royal party left for Government House. There Princess Juliana will occupy the royal suite with its mauve carpet, mauve slip covers and floral chintzes in which King George and Queen Elizabeth were guests nearly five years ago.

FINDS PEOPLE KIND
Princess Juliana said she was overjoyed with her first visit to the Pacific coast.

"What is so nice about the people here is you are received for what you are," the charming princess said in impeccable English, richened with just a touch of her native accent.

"Everyone is so awfully kind."

They open their houses and their hearts," she said a little shyly. "It will be good to see my three daughters again who are at our Canadian home in Ottawa," she said. "Dutch and Canadians—we raise our children very much alike. My family is just like yours. I think they will fit very nicely into Holland's way of life when we can take them home again."

"It is always such a thrill to see a ship slide down the ways," she said, referring to the launching at Yarrow's Saturday when she will christen the St. Stephen, Canadian naval frigate.

At 4.45 today Princess Juliana will attend a reception at Government House at which members of the island's Netherlands community will be present. They will be presented in the drawing room, and tea will be served in the ballroom. There will be a formal state dinner for 24 guests this evening at 7.45 at Government House.

Princess Juliana had a glimpse of democracy at work in a County City Building elevator—but she was squeezed into a corner in the process.

The operator did not recognize the princess and her party when they entered on the second floor. Several courtesies were asked until the car was full. As the operator started to close the door, a late arrival called: "Going down?"

He opened the door, and the man squeezed in. By this time the passengers in the back were packed in like sardines.

The car made its humid way to the first floor, and its passengers including the slightly disheveled princess popped out and went their way.

An attorney, recognizing the princess, remarked: "What a what a democracy at work!"

Kwajalein Japs Appear to Face Quick Surrender

By CHARLES H. MCMURTRY
PEARL HARBOR (AP)—Fighting men, tanks and guns, pouring ashore to annihilate the dwindling forces of Japanese defenders, appeared today to be on the verge of conquering the Kwajalein, largest atoll in the Marshalls and core of that enemy defense system.

As the invasion moved through its fifth day, preliminary reports told of light U.S. losses during the achievement of a strong entering wedge into mid-Pacific positions Japan has held for 25 years.

Rear-Admiral Richmond K. Turner, commander of the amphibious operations—as he was last November during the bloody investment of the Gilberts—said assault losses were far under what had been expected.

U.S. Heavy Bombers In New Day Raid; Nazis Hit London

LONDON (CP)—Strong formations of U.S. heavy bombers escorted by Allied fighters bombed Germany for the second straight day today, hitting at targets in the western Reich, U.S. Army Headquarters here announced.

The U.S. attacks followed a night during which R.A.F. Mosquito bombers also attacked targets in western Germany.

R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. intruders ranged over northern France on Thursday night, and minelayers invaded enemy waters, it was announced today.

Heavy bombers streamed over the Channel today toward France and great waves passed over Folkestone for an hour, some thundering toward the enemy coast and others returning from the attack.

R.A.F. Spitfire squadrons also took to the air over the Channel during the afternoon.

R.C.A.F. headquarters said Canadian fighters knocked down two German planes Thursday night over northern France. All British and Canadian planes returned safely.

The sweeps over western Germany and northern France came in the wake of the 1,100-plane operation by the U.S. fliers against Wilhelmshaven Thursday.

POCKET BLITZ
While the Allied offensive on Germany was continuing, the Nazis staged a "pocket blitz" on London Thursday night.

Striking in two waves for the first time since Jan. 21, the Germans sent about 70 planes in their attacks against London, but only about 20 reached the London area.

The first wave came in from the south about 9 p.m. and fanned out over three counties. Eight hours later a slightly larger force concentrated on the Thames estuary district, touched off a tremendous anti-aircraft barrage and dropped bombs haphazardly in some districts, causing an undisclosed number of casualties.

This second group scattered hundreds of incendiaries in a path across shops and streets in one London district and started several fires. All but one of these fires was extinguished by fireguards, however, before the fire engines arrived.

A 19-year-old Canadian private was among 12 persons requiring hospital treatment in the London district struck during the second raid.

British ground defenders shot down three Dornier 217s and a Junker 188.

Yarrows Given Contract For Landing Barges

OTTAWA (Special)—Yarrows Ltd. of Victoria, B.C., has been awarded a contract to build several ocean-going landing craft. This is part of a new naval program which calls for a type of ship to be used in offensive action.

After the outbreak of war Yarrows began construction of corvettes and 10,000-ton freighters, but later, owing to the shipbuilders there who had had experience in naval construction the yards were told to proceed with the building of frigates, a new type of ship which was to aid the smaller corvettes in their convoy work.

Owing to the success of the Royal Canadian Navy in its campaign against the U-boats the naval department recently found it had sufficient ships either afloat or under construction to take care of the submarines and stopped the laying of additional orders.

The department, however, said contracts for a different type of ship would be forthcoming and the yards would not have to lay off any of its men.

3 German Ships, Blockade Runners, Sunk in Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three German blockade runners laden with war materials from Japanese-held Pacific ports have been sunk by a U.S. cruiser and destroyers in the South Atlantic.

The navy, announcing this today, said the holds of the enemy ships were filled to capacity with thousands of tons of rubber, tin, fats and strategic ores. Some of those materials, particularly rubber, were salvaged and many prisoners were taken.

Seeking to sneak through the American blockade, the three ships—the Burgenland, Rio Grande and Weserland—were sighted and sunk within a 48-hour period "early in January," the navy reported.

CHASED BY OMAHA
The blockade runners were chased down by the cruiser Omaha, which already had one blockade runner to its credit; the destroyer Jouett, which bagged a German submarine in the Atlantic several months ago, and the destroyer Somers.

Alberta Willing
EDMONTON (CP)—Premier E. C. Manning said today the Alberta government had notified Dominion authorities it was "ready and willing" to participate in a Dominion-Provincial conference "provided the conference is not restricted to certain cut-and-dried proposals."

Tory Leader Calls For Statement On McNaughton Now

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston will make a statement on the relinquishing by Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of the Canadian overseas army command and on other army matters during debate on the War Appropriation Bill, probably next week, Prime Minister King told the Commons this afternoon.

"I call upon the Prime Minister and the Minister of National Defence to clear up this matter now," said Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader.

Mr. Graydon asked Mr. King for a statement. The Prime Minister said the statement would be made as planned, despite Gen. McNaughton's reported statement Thursday (at Seignior Club, Que.) that he was in good health.

Then Mr. Graydon demanded an immediate statement. Mr. Graydon said he was "amazed" at the position taken by the Prime Minister. The whole question of Gen. McNaughton's resignation and his statement to the press Thursday had thrown the government into confusion.

Mr. Graydon said that Gen. McNaughton had resigned because of ill-health.

The matter should be cleared up immediately, not next week. The public was "agitated" over the matter—and Mr. Graydon said, he would not be pressing for an explanation if he did not feel it necessary.

Gen. McNaughton had told the press his health was all right. The public morale could not help but be affected if no explanation were given.

Defence Minister Ralston rose as if to reply, but Speaker J. A. Glen said there could be no general debate during Orders of the Day.

FULL DEBATE
Mr. King said he did not wish to review the rights and wrongs of Mr. Graydon's statement, but the Opposition Leader had made clear there were many matters on which the House would desire information, so as to have a clear view of the situation. It was not the intention to begin a debate on matters as important as the army on a question asked on Orders of the Day.

If the Throne Speech debate continued for some time the government would consider setting aside a day during which army matters could be discussed.

Election Clarification

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker, Prog. Con., Lake Centre, Sask., said in the Commons this afternoon that in view of the serious war situation Prime Minister King should make a more definite statement than any yet made on the administration's election intentions. He said Mr. King's statement was "baffling."

"In my opinion Canada can not afford the luxury of taking a fence-sitting position in regard to our relations with the Empire or with other countries," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

Rommel Reported Back in Italy; Drive Expected

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY (AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel was reported back in Italy directing Nazi strategy today and Allied headquarters disclosed the Germans have launched their expected big offensive against the Anzio landing below Rome, supporting their assaults with heavy fire power and tank charges.

On the main 5th Army front U.S. forces were fighting fiercely in the outskirts of Cassino, using tanks against Germans who had to be cleaned out of dugouts and cellars in methodical fashion.

The offensive aimed at driving the British and U.S. troops back into the sea from their beachhead and the tough house-to-house resistance offered at Cassino appeared to be the twin parts of a German strategy to fight off the Allied thrust aimed at trapping a large part of the German 10th army.

The perimeter of the Anzio bridgehead, struck four times against British and U.S. troops who are reported to have more than six divisions ashore. The German air force, almost absent from Italian skies for several days, returned to support the thrusts.

In each case, Allied headquarters said, the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses and the Allies improved their positions slightly.

In repulsing the attacks the Allies captured 140 prisoners. The enemy opened his offensive with three successive thrusts north of Padiglione, eight miles northwest of Anzio. They also jumped out at the Americans who, in the area west of Cliterna, had driven to the outskirts of that Apulian town 14 miles northeast of Anzio.

(Today's broadcast German communique as heard in London said: "On the enemy landing beaches of Nettuno major enemy forces were encircled by counterattacks. Relief attacks were repulsed.")

"On other sectors of the Italian front the communique said fluctuating battles were in progress, with both sides showing 'extreme doggedness.'")

Bags Nazi Plane

LONDON (CP) — R.C.A.F. fighters destroyed two enemy aircraft Thursday night over Great Britain and one over northern France—an R.C.A.F. communiqué announced today.

Canadian bombers laid mines in enemy waters, it was reported. No Canadian aircraft are missing from these operations.

The enemy plane destroyed over northern France was a Junkers 88 shot down by a Mosquito-intruder team of F.Lt. Tommy Anderson of Winnipeg and F.O. Frank Cadman of Victoria. The Junkers went down in flames and exploded.

Both Anderson and Cadman are recent arrivals from Canada and were on their second operational flight.

Victorian Tells Thrilling Story Of Sinking of Nazi Submarine

A BRITISH PORT (CP) — Depth charges dropped by the Royal Navy frigate Nene and the close-range gunfire of the Canadian corvettes Snowberry and Calgary blasted to the bottom an enemy submarine stalking a large Atlantic convoy which reached port with only two ships damaged.

A day later, H.M.S. Crane and H.M.S. Foley were credited with the probable "kill" of another U-boat.

So close was the Snowberry that the sinking U-boat bumped against her hull once, said Lieut. J. A. (Hamish) Dunn of Victoria, who was relieving Lieut. John (Barry) O'Brien of Ottawa as the Snowberry's commanding officer.

Early one Sunday morning the Snowberry and Nene together picked up a "very good" submarine contact while en route to join the convoy.

"We both went for it all out," said Dunn. "Nene inadvertently came across our bows in the dark and we had to go full speed astern. Just after Nene's second pattern went off we spotted a conning tower about 900 yards off. It disappeared and then the bow and conning tower appeared."

"Snowberry went full ahead and hard astarboard and we immediately opened fire. Our very first shot exploded on the conning tower at 700 yards. Then we came up and passed the U-boat at 150 yards. All our guns were blazing away."

Dunn said Able Seaman Don Vyse of Peterborough, Ont., kept his Lewis gun trained on the U-boat's deck and picked off the Nazis whenever they attempted to take cover.

"As we were firing away," said Dunn, "Calgary steamed up with all her guns belching fire. In the meantime Nene was blasting away furiously, so I thought to myself, 'We better get out of here.' We moved to a better position."

"The Nazis had by this time

2 More Successes By Yugoslav Partisans

LONDON (AP) — Sharp battles are mushrooming all along Yugoslavia's many fighting fronts, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today as the Germans were reported massing reinforcements from Bulgaria and Greece for their seventh effort to smash Partisan resistance in that war-torn country.

The Yugoslav Partisans scored decisive triumphs on two fronts, Tito's war bulletin broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio said, routing the German Prince Eugen division in Herzegovina and smashing Nazi and Chetnik attacks in Montenegro.

North of the Bosnian capital of Sarajevo, the Yugoslavs battled the enemy to a standstill and cleared the Doboj-Draventa area of roving German and Chetnik columns.

Partisan troops launched offensives in the Lika province of Croatia and gained control of the Perusic-Otocac-Zuta, and Lovka-Brinje areas after fierce fighting.

Britain to Lay Off Aircraft Workers

LONDON (CP) — Aircraft production, which since the early days of the war has had first priority on British labor, soon will undergo a reduction in its personnel because the "program is in such a healthy state," the London Daily Mail said today.

"Thousands of men and girls long employed in the aircraft industry," the newspaper added, "soon will be called into the services or will be transferred to other war work."

Copenhagen Fined 2,000,000 Kroner

STOCKHOLM (AP) — German occupation authorities in Denmark imposed a fine of 2,000,000 kroner (approximately $900,000) on the City of Copenhagen within the last week for the wounding of two German officers, Copenhagen dispatches say.

The Nazis have loaded the city with heavy fines on several occasions without reducing the number of attacks on German soldiers.

Canada to Claim Full Peace Share, Says Claxton

TORONTO (CP) — Canada must have a full share in shaping the peace, because "it is a right we are earning by the service of our fighting men, by the magnitude of our material contribution, and by our spirit of mutual aid," Brooke Claxton, Parliamentary Assistant to Prime Minister King, said today.

Addressing a service club luncheon, he said that so far, the major strategy of the war had been in the hands of Britain, Russia, China and the United States, and no one questioned the necessity for the close association of the three or four supreme powers as the foundation of lasting peace.

"But they are not enough. They do not represent the world. They have no monopoly of intelligence, experience, or good will. The beauty and strength of the peace have not been finally destroyed. The international record of Czechoslovakia is equal to that of any country."

"Lasting peace must rest on the widest foundations. Those foundations must be planned and built now."

Clapper Gave Life To Show U.S. People What War Is Like

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Raymond Clapper, who died in a plane crash while covering the Russian front for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, was respected in a number of ways.

Other newsmen were always sure he was calling his shots exactly as he saw them.

He made $100,000 a year. He had a wife and two children. He wrote for the Scripps-Howard newspaper alliance his daily column which was nationally famous.

Why then did he leave Washington for the South Pacific war? Why did he go up in the bomber that crashed him to his death in a lagoon in the Marshalls? He didn't need to.

He had seen what war is. He had covered part of the Mediterranean campaign. He had flown in a bomber on the first U.S. bombing of Rome.

The column he wrote from San Francisco on New Year's Day can explain some of it. He wrote, just before his departure for the "South Pacific":

"Some people in Washington feel that there is not sufficient awareness at home of how much our men are doing (in the South Pacific), and in what a living hell they must sometimes do it. So somebody says why don't I go and get a taste of it; and so here I go, dragging these aging bones."

He was in his 52nd year, and so he went. And he was killed, just as 15 other U.S. correspondents had been killed, or died, abroad since the European war started.

Two Canadian newspapermen — Sam Robertson of the Canadian Press and Edward Baudry of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation — also have died on war assignments.

Anti-Nazi Revolts Reported in Bulgaria

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Office of War Information today quoted Berne dispatches to the Swedish newspaper Stockholms Tidningen as saying reports from the Balkan indicate a series of anti-German revolts had broken out in Bulgarian garrisons Feb. 1 and 2.

The dispatch said states of emergency had been declared in Burgas, Russe, Pleven and Plovdiv.

The O.W.I. also quoted the Cairo radio as saying Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chieftain and Interior Minister, had assumed "supervision" of Bulgaria because he could no longer trust the Bulgarian army.

State of Emergency In Estonia Capital

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Estonian capital of Reval (Tallin) expects a declaration of a state of emergency momentarily as a result of the Russian advance and citizens have been ordered to evacuate the city as soon as possible, dispatches to the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda said today.

In Helsinki the Finnish air chief told residents they must prepare for an imminent aerial bombardment, the report said.

Nazis Urge Pope Go to Germany But He Refuses

LONDON (CP) — A thinly-veiled warning that the Germans intend to defend Rome step by step, whatever the destruction entailed, is reported to have been conveyed to Pope Pius XII by the Nazis, who apparently have been trying for some time to persuade the Pontiff to go to Germany.

The Ankara radio said the warning had been handed the Pope by Baron Ernest von Weizsaecker, German ambassador to the Vatican, in the form of a statement from Field Marshal Albert Kesselring declaring the ultimate fate of Rome necessarily will be "subject to military considerations."

At the same time the Vatican radio made it plain the Pope has no intention of leaving Rome, come what may. In a broadcast recorded here Thursday night by the Associated Press the Vatican said:

"Pius XII, since the very beginning of the war, has refused to abandon his Rome, always wishing to be present and participate in all the moral and material sufferings of the world, bleeding from the great torture."

The Pope has always wanted Rome to be in the front line of spiritual resurrection."

Whether this broadcast was intended as a response to the message said to have been given the Pontiff by Van Weizsaecker was not clear. The tone of the statement, however, seemed to confirm recurring reports that the Germans have been trying to prevail on the Pope to move to Germany.

while, quoted the newspaper La Suisse de Geneve as saying: "The campaign of the Soviet press accusing it of Fascist leanings."

Commodity Control

MONTREAL (CP) — Setting up of an international organization to assure that intergovernmental commodity control agreements are formulated and administered in the public interest was suggested here today in a new publication of the International Labor Office.

Chief among these fundamentals of policy, the study listed the principle that commodity control policy "should promote the constant availability of adequate supplies at prices which give a reasonable return to the efficient producer and are held sufficiently stable to afford him constant protection against erratic swings of major dimensions, but do not involve the exaction from the consumer of monopoly profits or the payment by him of prices held at unduly high levels to maintain the profitability of high-cost capacity."

The ministry announced there were 1,775 labor disputes involving 559,000 workers, at a cost of 1,810,000 working days. During the previous year (1942) there were 1,303 stoppages which cost 1,530,000 lost days.

Cost of Living Stable in Britain

LONDON (CP) — Great Britain's cost of living remained stable last year, wage increases were given 6,200,000 workers, and the number of working days lost through strikes and stoppages set a wartime record, says a Ministry of Labor summary.

The cost of living index, the summary says, remained unchanged throughout the year at 99. At the start of the war it was 95.

Economic commentators pointed to the 1943 wage boosts as an indication average wage rates have risen more than the cost of living, with the gain in actual earnings going considerably higher.

The ministry announced there were 1,775 labor disputes involving 559,000 workers, at a cost of 1,810,000 working days. During the previous year (1942) there were 1,303 stoppages which cost 1,530,000 lost days.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO

Feb. 4, 1940—Ottawa announced that 1,400 aircrew graduates each month was the goal of the Canadian Air Corps training plan. Russian planes raided Abo and left that Finnish port in flames. Balkan Entente nations pledged common action to safeguard their "rights, independence and national territory."

Parliament Hears Demand to Exclude Refugees Until Servicemen Re-settled

By FRANK FLAHERTY
OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition from Quebec members to the admission of refugees or other immigrants until all members of the forces are re-established in civilian life drew the support of one Ontario Progressive Conservative, Thursday evening, but he said he was speaking for himself and not his party.

Gordon Fraser, Prog. Con., Peterborough West, took a view of the situation similar to that expressed earlier in the Throne Speech debate by such French-speaking members as Maxime Raymond, Bloc Populaire leader, and Ligouri Lacombe, Cdn. Laval-Two Mountains, Que., and Thursday night by Emmanuel D'Anjou, Lib., Rimouski, Que., Armand Choquette, Bloc Pop., Stanstead, Que., and Eugene Durocher, Lib., Montreal-St. James.

"Not one refugee should come in until every man and woman now serving in the forces is returned to civilian life and has secured a job," said Mr. Fraser. "I do not think these people should come in now and be given the advantage of jobs over our men who are overseas fighting for you and me, and I will fight the entrance of these people to Canada to the last ditch."

Expect Statement On Army Affairs

Private members occupied the floor throughout Thursday's sittings. So far no cabinet minister has spoken. Members, however, look for a statement from Defence Minister Ralston on Lieut. Gen. A. G. McCreery's resignation, quelling the overseas army command and other army matters.

dians in the northern part of his Manitoba constituency.

Too Much Optimism About Early Peace

Douglas Ross, Prog. Con., Toronto-St. Paul's, said there had been too much optimism about an early end of the war.

In the Throne Speech, Prime Minister King has "dressed his windows" in preparation for a general election. An election at this time would be "deplorable" and there was no necessity for it. "The absolutism of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is becoming more intolerable and it is getting more dangerous all the time," said Mr. Ross. The CBC no longer was controlled by its board of governors but by the government and the Liberal Party, he said.

John Bracken had been refused the air "simply because he was the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party." Yet ministers were allowed to speak over the air.

Mr. Ross said there should be an independent commission like the board of transport commissioners to act as a referee in radio matters, to decide questions as to use of the air by public men, and to decide issues between private stations and the CBC.

Emmanuel d'Anjou, Lib., Rimouski, Que., was among those who wished to denounce the immigration of any refugees to Canada.

"I have always fought immigration and I denounce the entry to Canada of refugees picked up here and there around the world," Mr. d'Anjou said.

"We didn't want the war. We are not responsible for the war. Let those who are responsible for the war take care of the refugees whom some people would want to put into Canada."

Wilfrid LaCroix, Lib., Quebec-Montmorency, said he would prefer to see Canada "orient herself toward complete independence," rather than see her blindly follow Britain's foreign policy which will infallibly lead us into war every 20 or 25 years.

Protest Tightening Of Ties With Britain

"I protest, as I have always protested, against any tightening of the ties which unite us to England," Mr. LaCroix said. John R. MacNicol, Progressive Conservative national leader, had heard Lord Halifax deliver his speech, he continued. By his presence and by his applause, he had designated his adhesion to the words of Lord Halifax. "Let us not forget that the audacity of the British government, which—no matter what is said to the contrary, inspired Lord Halifax—is simply the consequence of our weakness," he said. "Lord Halifax simply said to himself that we had created the necessary atmosphere for him to make his request and that he should profit by it."

John R. MacNicol, Prog. Con., Toronto-Davenport, said eastern Canada must rally to the support of the west in assisting the development of irrigation and power projects to make possible 30,000 additional prairie farm homes.

Projects he proposed for prairie betterment might cost $100,000,000, he said, but the money would be well spent for the benefit of Canada as a whole as well as of the west.

Last summer Mr. MacNicol traveled some 8,000 miles in the west examining possible irrigation projects, river flow and power sites.

"I am convinced the west has not had a square deal, and as an eastern member it is my duty to raise my voice in attempt to see that it does get a square deal," he said.

Mrs. Nielsen Talks Of Rose Incident

When Hon. R. B. Hanson, Prog. Con., York-Sunbury, N.B., rapped

Fred Rose, new Labor-Progressive member for Montreal-Cartier, Wednesday, he started something which ended in a laugh Thursday night.

Mr. Hanson deplored the election of a member of Mr. Rose's radical views and quipped that to him "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Thursday night, Mrs. Dorise Nielsen, Unity, North Battleford, Sask., came to the defence of Mr. Rose, and called Mr. Hanson's remarks "unbecoming" to a senior member of the House, and indicative of the "core of reaction which lies within the Conservative Party." She said she was very happy to have "with us a little red rose."

As Mrs. Nielsen took her seat half an hour later a page strode up to Mr. Hanson's desk and deposited on it a single red rose in a small vase, as a joke started by a member of Mr. Hanson's own party.

In the Senate Throne Speech debate Thursday afternoon, two members discussed the position of the Senate if a C.C.F. government should attain power.

Senator Salter Hayden, Lib., Ontario, said "threats" from some quarters to abolish the Senate if it failed to approve measures of a C.C.F. government showed either lack of understanding or complete disregard of the constitution.

Senator John Haig, Prog. Con., Manitoba, said that while the Senate might block Socialist measures on first presentation, the Senate would have to give approval if a C.C.F. government were endorsed in a second election.

Today's War Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
Hitler's world is shrinking so dangerously the time isn't far distant when he no longer will be able to find a place in which to hide from the vengeance which is closing in on him.

The Red Armies—striking fiercely and unceasingly in order to make every hour count before spring arrives to turn the steps into seas of mud—have placed the German front in fresh jeopardy in three sectors:

1. Most sensational is the operation in the far south, within the Dnieper bend, where two Russian armies have pinched off the Smola salient and trapped 10 Soviet divisions—probably more than 100,000 men. It's a great feat of generalship and valor. Fierce fighting continues as the surrounded Germans battle to escape, and Moscow reports 10,000 already have been slain. That's what the Russian front means these days—annihilation.

2. In the south-central zone the Muscovites have continued their thrust into prewar Poland, threatening a disastrous severance of the Nazi line. The Germans say they've abandoned the important railway cities of Lutsk and Rovno. If that's true, it brings the Russians still closer to the great railway junction of Lwow (Lemberg), which lies on Hitler's sole remaining railway communication with Odessa and his big army in the Dnieper bend.

3. On the northern end of the line the Russians have driven still farther into Estonia and are menacing the strategic city of Narva, which Berlin says is being evacuated. Thus the German left flank is being swung back, and the Russian advance casts its shadow clear across the Baltic states.

All three operations may be expected to produce far-reaching results, but I invite your attention specially to the Dnieper bend battle. It looks very much as though here is approaching a denouement of one of the great dramas of the entire war. And we have not only drama but military importance so great that many experts think this is one of the decisive engagements of the European conflict.

Probably you often have wondered why Field Marshal von Manstein has persisted so doggedly in hanging onto that great bulge along the lower Dnieper. So have the military experts. The tip of that sharp salient is some 400 miles from the apex of the Russian advance into Poland, far to the west. There hasn't been a day for months when Von Manstein wasn't in danger of being trapped in that vast bend—and within it he has perhaps 500,000 men.

BALKAN POSSIBILITIES

I ventured the view in this column some weeks ago that the Nazi commander probably was bent on protecting the Bessarabian gateway to the Balkans. Veritas, the sound British commentator, is among those leaning to that view, although characterizing Von Manstein's campaign as one of the enigmas of the war, which it certainly is.

As I have pointed out previously, should Von Manstein's Dnieper bend force be pocketed or compelled to retreat into the Balkans, it would precipitate a political and military upheaval on that peninsula, thereby not only jeopardizing Hitler's remaining Russian front but making an opening for the Allies to get at Germany through the Balkans.

So Von Manstein continues to hold, likely against his better military judgment, because he is working under orders of the Fuehrer, who feels the necessity of safeguarding the Balkans even at the possible cost of many men. Every day increases Von Manstein's danger. The pinching-off of the Smola salient, while a great triumph, is only an incident in this greater conflict of the Dnieper bend.

Government Holds Brighton Seat

LONDON (CP)—The government today won the by-election for the House of Commons seat of Brighton left vacant by the retirement of Sir Cooper Rawson, by a narrow margin in a light vote.

Ft. Lt. William Teeling, National Government candidate who received support from Prime Minister Churchill, defeated Bruce Brin, Independent, by a vote of 14,594 to 12,636. The vote was in sharp contrast to that of the last election, in 1935, when Maj. (now Lord) Tryon polled 60,913 votes and his fellow Conservative, Sir Cooper Rawson, 60,724 against 19,287 and 18,743 for two Labor opponents in the two-man constituency.

Mr. Churchill intervened in the by-election to denounce the statement by Brin that he gave wholehearted support to Mr. Churchill and the government in the task of winning the war.

The Prime Minister in letters to Teeling said he was sure the electors would not be "taken in by this attempted swindle."

In accordance with the wartime political truce among the major parties, Labor did not contest the by-election.

UNTIL SHE STEPPED OUT OF THE BARRIER!

Not long ago she was always left out of things. Unknown to her, the invisible barrier of "B.O." cut her off from the friends and good times she longed for.

Today, she is popular, sought after. The answer is simple. She discovered the pleasant safeguard of sensible people everywhere. She bathes daily with the special purifying lather of Lifebuoy soap. Because Lifebuoy is especially made to stop "B.O.", it gives lasting all-over protection. And its clean, invigorating scent vanishes before you're even dressed.

The shipments were mainly flour, which totaled 154,911 long tons. Wheat amounted to 20,685 long tons. Combined shipments of wheat and flour, expressed in terms of wheat, are estimated at 8,739,342 bushels. Mr. MacKinnon said the flow of wheat and flour to Russia has not been altered by completion of the credit since it now is continuing under mutual aid.

Make Your Own Quilts

By JEAN MILLER

If you want to be really smart and practical these days, you will follow those who have taken to quilting. A real shortage of store blankets and quilts has been occasioned by the enormous requirements of the armed forces, also the number of new homes being established. You can get warmth, interest and beauty into your bedding if you start making it.

Let's talk about two main types of bed-covering: the big soft puffy elderdown-type to lie artistically over the spread; and the large, thin, well-stitched comforter which takes the place of the blanket. In either of these you will need covering material and inside filling. The amounts of both will depend on the size of your bed, and the quality, on your purse and the availability of materials.

Both wool and cotton batts for filling are to be found in the stores, and they are very inexpensive. A wool batt which opens out to make a sheet two yards wide by two and a half long, already pressed into easily workable thickness, can be bought for about $2.00. Cotton is of course much cheaper. These batts need only to be opened out, covered with suitable material and properly stitched, to make soft, warm and thoroughly attractive bed-coverings. Wool is much superior to cotton; it is of course much warmer, it wears forever, and being springy and resilient, it is much more washable, resisting the tendency to lump and mat inside the covering.

PUFFY COMFORTER

Washability is perhaps not so important for the puffy elderdown-type of comforter, since as a top cover it does not come into such close contact with the body and sheets. The covering material may, therefore, be a material such as slipper or lining satin, which can be bought in 54-inch widths and a variety of colors; or printed materials may be found. Width is not important; the comforter will look better if there is no seam up the middle, otherwise piecing does not matter and will not be obvious.

Steps in making are as follows: 1. Choose your material, decide on the size of the finished comforter, cut and stitch material into two pieces, for top and bottom. 2. Stitch one side and one end on wrong side, turn, lay flat on papers on the floor. 3. Lay your filling carefully in place inside your covering, watching corners. If it was not available in exactly the right size batt, it can either be cut down, or enlarged with pieces from another batt.

4. Turn the covering down over the filling, and, starting along the stitched edge, pin top and bottom covering and filling together with pins set not more than foot apart, and neatly spaced.

5. When the whole comforter is firmly pinned, overcast together by hand the remaining two edges of the covering.

6. With thread to match your covering, tack strongly through the whole thickness at each pin. A quilting frame is a help here, but it is not necessary.

That's all. The comforter is now ready for use.

There are dozens of tricks in making comforters. Many experienced homemakers put the wool or cotton filling inside cheesecloth—before putting it into the final outer cover. Others mark the top outer covering carefully with pencil and ruler before inserting the filling, to have guiding lines along which to set pins and stitching.

THINNER COVERING

The thinner, blanket-type coverings are made in fundamentally the same manner, but here the first importance is washability. Choose covering material that is definitely washable. The batt for the filling should be teased out until it is about half its thickness; after the covering is in place and the edges overcast, the pins should be replaced by basting. Then this particular comforter may be quilted on the sewing machine. The lines of stitching should be quite close together, never leaving more than a three or four-inch unstitched space. Otherwise the filling will bunch and mat in the washing.

ROYAL ALBERT CHINA Blue Pansy Pattern 21-PIECE TEA SET 13.75 JEWELERS & OPTICIANS ROSE'S LTD. 1317 DOUGLAS STREET

By MARY BEARD Director, Nursing Service, Red Cross

There are four general objectives to be kept in mind in caring for the sick at home.

The are: (1) to do everything possible for the welfare of the patient so as to hasten his recovery, (2) to minimize the disturbances to family life, (3) to avoid conflict with the work of family wage earners and (4) to prevent unnecessary strain on the home nurse.

These objectives can be facilitated and careful planning. A daily schedule both for household tasks and the patient's care will aid materially. Obviously, the routine of the patient's day will vary according to the nature and severity of his illness, and according to the doctor's instructions. However, the schedule should provide time for the following procedures approximately in the order given:

1. Before breakfast care—a glass of water or a hot drink, face and hands washed, mouth and teeth cleaned, toilet or bedpan and bed straightened.
2. Breakfast.
3. Bath—not earlier than one-half hour after breakfast.
4. Midmorning lunch or liquid.
5. Lunch.
6. Nap or rest period.
7. Visitors, if permitted, and in convalescence or in minor illness light occupation or diversion.
8. Midafternoon nourishment.
9. Patient and room put in order before supper.
10. Supper.
11. Evening care—which includes back rub or sponge bath, mouth and teeth cleaned, toilet or bedpan.

Of course, time must be allowed between these intervals for taking temperature, pulse and respiration and for giving medicines and treatment ordered by the doctor.

Music....

By IRIS SMALLWOOD STOKOWSKI FORMS SYMPHONY FOR AMERICAN TALENT

Leopold Stokowski, leader of the Philadelphia orchestra for 29 years, last week announced his acceptance of the position of unsalaried musical director of the New York City Symphony, a new orchestra now being formed in the City Centre of Music and Drama.

Mr. Stokowski, who recently organized also the All-American Youth Orchestra, told a press conference that the musical programs to be presented would stress the work of young American composers as well as the classics and some lighter music. Concerts will be offered especially for children and students, and for those who like to hear music after work, 5.30 p.m. being mentioned as a probable time.

Auditions for the 80-member orchestra are being conducted now, and the first program is scheduled for early March. Concerts will be given Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, so they will not conflict with those of the New York Philharmonic. Price is expected to be in line with the $5 cents to $1.65 range for dramatic and musical offerings presented in the City Centre so far.

Eminent soloists as well as unknown talent will be invited to perform with the orchestra, and later, Mr. Stokowski said, it is hoped a special 4,000-seat auditorium will be built especially for this latest addition to the American symphony world.

LILY PONS—LUCKY 13!

Thirteen is certainly a favored number to Lily Pons. She had just had her 13th anniversary at the Metropolitan, singing in the "Milk and Honey" scene, made her debut in January, 1931. Born on Friday, the 13th in Cannes, Miss Pons always tries to reach an important decision on that date. Her husband, Andre Kostelanetz, flew 13 times from New York to California during the courtship period, and proposed 13 times. The two now live at 13 Silvermine Road, Silvermine, Conn.

Further facts for numerologists are that Miss Pons automobile number is LP-13 there were 13 letters in the name of her first movie "I Dream Too Much," 13 in the producer's name (Pandora S. Berman) and in her leading man's name (Osgood Perkins).

Is it too much to hope for another 13 years of Pons' coloratura voice, vivacious French charm, and electric radio personality?

ARMY ORGANIST TO PLAY ALL-REQUEST PROGRAM

Sgt. Paul Michelin, noted organist and pianist, and consistent producer of shows for the armed forces, will give an all-request program tonight at the First Baptist Church.

Canada's first official entertainer, Sgt. Michelin has carved a niche for himself in the army, entertaining thousands of soldiers throughout Victoria and Esquimalt garrisons. He is a musician of high worth, having studied violin, piano and organ at the Italian College of Music from the age of seven. He played the famous organ at Albert Hall in London, and left for Canada the same year as he was engaged by Famous Players, for whom he played across Canada in the days when background music was so important a part of silent films.

Sgt. Michelin is broad in his knowledge of music, ranging from liturgical and classical music to popular song-hits, with thousands of compositions learned by heart.

His performance at 8 tonight will undoubtedly be well attended by the public, especially the men and women of the forces, for whom he has given untiringly of his talents in the last few years.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

The choir of the First United Church, under the direction of George H. Peaker, choirmaster and organist, will sing at the Twilight Recital, in First Baptist Church, Sunday, at 3. The choral numbers will be selected from Bach, Handel, Mozart and J. E. West. Soloists will be Mesdames W. H. Wilson and Marjorie Goodwin and Miss Carol M. Menzies and James Petrie.

Lion's Club Give Out With Mair-zy Doats

Not to be outdone by the "bobby-sox brigade" with their adoration of Sinatra, usually serious-minded Victoria businessmen, members of the Lions Club, today gave out with the latest song hit, "Mair-zy Doats," at their luncheon in Spencer's today.

From Carl Stocker, at whose instigation copies of the song were put at each member's place, to genial Rev. George Biddle, club padre, 40 men sang with gusto about "mair-zy doats and do-zy doats and lid-dle lam-zy div-ey; a kid-dle-y div-ey too, wouldn't you?"

All was in the spirit of keeping Lion members up-to-date on the most modern songs, according to Mr. Stocker.

Dorothy Dix

NAGGING WOMEN

Dear Dorothy Dix—My husband is awfully good to me and buys me beautiful clothes, and he adores both the baby and me. Our life together would be just Heaven if he didn't accuse me of nagging every time I speak to him about something that he does that I don't like. Is it nagging for a wife to tell her husband what she thinks about certain things, that he does—that are wrong?

Answer: Every husband has his own private definition of what constitutes nagging. Generally speaking, nagging is harping on the same string, making the same suggestion over and over again, repeating the same admonition or advice hundreds of times.

For instance, it is nagging when a wife reminds her husband every time he lights a cigarette or gets out his pipe of what an extravagance the use of tobacco is, and how injurious it is to the nerves, or how it seeps up the curtains. It is nagging when she is forever throwing in his teeth the time he lent some money to a friend that never was repaid, or the night he stayed down late at the lodge, or the occasion when he wouldn't change his shoes when his feet were wet and got a bad cold.

It is nagging when, year after year, his wife tries to make him go to her church, or she tries to make him resign from his club, and to give up all of his little tastes and pleasures because she doesn't happen to like them. It is nagging when she never lets him rest about buying something special she wants, or doing over the house, or doing anything else she has set her heart upon.

Nagging is much more common than women realize, because most women are constitutionally incapable of saying a thing once and letting it alone. The majority of them haven't very much that is new to think about, and so their minds run upon any little grievance until it becomes an obsession with them. And without realizing it, they dwell on that one particular subject until it gets on their husbands' nerves.

In your case, "Worried," the remedy for the situation is clearly indicated. If your husband considers it nagging to have you tell him of his faults, don't do it. After all, a man doesn't marry to get somebody to correct him. And if you do feel that you have to call his attention to his mistakes, do it once, and let the matter drop. Don't keep rubbing your reprimand in.

Of course, it is pretty hard for a wife to keep silent when she sees her husband doing something of which she disapproves, but if you can secure a happy home by keeping your tongue between your teeth, it is worth the price.

Exiled Juliana Devotes Life To Children and Netherlands

By KAY MCINTYRE

WHAT IS JULIANA, crown princess of the Netherlands who arrived in Victoria today, really like?

Her face is pleasant and alert, her manner bright, rather sweet. I give you this from Dorothy Kilgallen of Collier's and New York Journal American, who visited her in Ottawa this year. Dorothy also says:

"Photographs never do Juliana justice because they do not show that her eyes are a lively flower blue, her hair the pale brown color of honey, her skin fine and fair. When she talks she takes on great charm; her unquenchable qualities of intelligence and sympathy and sincerity begin to shine through the half-regal, half-girlish reticence."

Juliana and her husband, the youthful speed-loving Prince of Lippe-Biesterfeld, have been married since 1937 and have always been considered one of the most romantically mated and happiest of European royal couples. Certainly they were among the most conscientious and intelligent in their concern for their people.

Before the German invasion, they inaugurated the custom of playing host and hostess to regular gatherings of young people at their beautiful Soestdijk Palace. The prince and princess both entered freely into the discussions, contributed much to them and learned much from them.

When Marcia Winn, Chicago Tribune writer, went to see Princess Juliana in Ottawa she found the only mark that distinguishes her grey stone house in the hilly suburb of Rockcliffe is the placard at the entrance to the driveway:

"Please drive slowly," it states, "Children play here."

At the end of the brief driveway, in a rented 10-room house, and surrounded by rented furniture, Juliana, who is with us here in Victoria today, lives with her three small blond daughters.

Of the various members of European royalty who have made their homes in North America since 1918, Juliana is the most democratic. She lives simply and in freedom.

CHILDREN GO TO SCHOOL

Her two oldest children, neither of whom has ever been called princess, attend public school. She is accessible to all callers. She drops in casually on friends and neighbors. She skis on neighboring slopes with her children. She holds open house any and every day of the week for members of the Dutch merchant marine, all 20,000 of whom are godfathers to her baby daughter, Margriet, now 11 months old.

Eventually Juliana will succeed to the throne of the Netherlands, wherever that throne may be, but she will never wear a crown. She will have no coronation. She will have no crown jewels. She will be sworn in, taking the oath of fealty and service — to her people.

The first impression Victorians had of Juliana was of a gracious, sweet faced young woman with startling, light eyes. She is neither fat nor dowdy.

SHE IS DISARMINGLY "RANK"

She seems shy and at times terribly sad. In these moments her face assumes the stern calm that characterizes her mother, Wilhelmina (to whom, incidentally, she refers simply as "my mother"). You realize then how naturally she would say what she said when she first arrived here in 1940, those phrases which since have become a Dutch aphorism:

"There is one favor I would like to ask of you. Do not give me your pity. Never speak to me of pity. Pity is for the weak, and our terrible fate has made us stronger than ever before."

Her frankness is disarming. In a conversation of more than an hour she sometimes groped for a word, but she neither hedged nor hesitated. She made it quickly apparent that her three consuming interests are her people in occupied Holland, her family, and the Dutchmen now fighting in the air, on the sea, and on the land. This triumvirate comes in no particular order.

BABY NAMED FOR FLOWER

The pin she wears may be an indication of these. The name of her baby, Margriet Franciscus (Dutch for "daisy of freedom") may be another. The pin is a silver replica of the margriet, a white field daisy similar to our Shasta daisy, which blooms in the fields of Holland in May. The fields were white with daisies when the Nazis invaded the low countries, and Juliana wears the margriet as a memorial to the Dutch people who have died under Nazi oppression. The 20,000 merchant marine godfathers of her Margriet wear it on their uniforms.

When asked why she makes her residence in Canada rather than in the United States, Juliana's reply is with lifted eyebrows.

"Why, Canada was a belligerent when I came over," she says, "It was in 1940."

WANTED TO STAY WITH MOTHER

She says she did not want to come. She wanted to stay in London with her mother, the Dutch government in exile, and her husband, Prince Bernhard, who serves as liaison officer between the Dutch forces and those of the Allies.

"But London was not considered safe for the children," she explains. "My mother and our government wanted them to be safe. It is on account of them that I crossed the Atlantic."

HAVE MUCH IN COMMON

"You always hear so many stories that America is so big, and when you come, it is big. It is impressive. But the people are awfully friendly and open, and we have much in common—common ideas, the way we are educated, the democratic outlook, the same ideas I should say on culture and civilized life, whatever you want to call it."

Juliana has been here three years now and has made several trips to the United States, one because she was so homesick. Her Victoria visit is the first to the Pacific coast. Asked what aspects of Canadian life she would like to see transplanted to postwar Holland, she made one revealing exclamation:

"Fruit juices!"

"But mostly we have the same things," she added in more sombre vein. "It is hard to mention something that would be alien at home. In every country there are things you admire very much and say, 'Isn't it lovely?' These generally are things inherent to that type of people, things that to use you'd have to change the character of the people, slight as the differences are."

"For instance, your historical spirit of daring and enterprise on a large scale. It is interwoven with your history and blended with your character. But in Holland there are no new parts you can go to except the reclaimed land of the Zuider Zee. We have no outposts. It has all been lived on so long. We have big industries, of course, but it isn't what I mean. They have a tendency to spread internationally."

KEEPS IN CLOSE TOUCH

Although as crown princess Juliana has no official function in the Dutch government, she apparently spends what time is not devoted to her three children to intense study of every word coming out of Holland, much of which is brought to her directly by escaped Dutchmen. She has strong convictions about the Holland that will arise after the war, and clings to them despite her belief that the Nazis are butchering those of Holland's young people who seem potential leaders.

"I think the Holland that is developing will be a fine achievement," she says slowly. "The terrific strain people have lived through has made a fraternization of all groups. Everybody helps everybody."

A GREAT BROTHERHOOD

"We are very great individualists, and every one has his own meaning. In Holland every one always has been entitled to his own opinion. We never said what somebody else said. That was in our blood. But now the complement of that, a great brotherhood, has come into being."

"People now know what are the small things that don't count. If everything is taken away from you, you know proportions, don't you?"

"This is the first time we have ever been poor, impoverished. Holland hasn't suffered this way since the Spanish war (Holland's war for independence from Spain, 1568 to 1648, led by William the Silent, after which Holland was a republic until 1813.)"

"We had a great beautiful period at its conclusion, a period of literature, commerce and art—Rembrandt. Of course, history never repeats itself. It does and doesn't, but after all the terrible suffering now, we hope a very fine period will arise."

DESOTISM INCREASING

"The human spirit," she continued, "is an unaccountable factor and can overcome a lot. . . ."

"You know, of course, that German despotism is increasing all the time. They now are feeling

Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Prince Bernhard pose with Princess Juliana for Karsh, famed photographer, during visit to Ottawa where the heir to the Netherlands throne awaits the end of the war and reconstruction of Dutch national life. With them are the three daughters of the Prince and Princess.

Princess Juliana made a valiant effort last week to break champagne bottle over the bow of the Liberty ship Jan Pieterzoon Coen at San Francisco, Calif., but missed completely and the bottle (arrow) swung wide of the mark. She is determined she will really smash the bottle at Yarrow's, here, Saturday, at 12 noon, when she will launch the Canadian naval frigate St. Stephen.

Princess Margriet Franciscus who was one year old Jan. 19 is the youngest of the three little daughters of Princess Juliana with whom she is eagerly looking forward to a reunion on her return to Ottawa.

Queen Wilhelmina enjoyed a brief reunion with her daughter, Princess Juliana and her granddaughters, Princess Irene and Princess Beatrix in Ottawa after crossing the Atlantic by plane. Informal picture was taken on the terrace of Princess Juliana's modest Ottawa home.

Royal Palace at Amsterdam before Princess Juliana's country was overrun by the Nazis. Now she lives in a rented 10-room house in Ottawa.

my cousin is dead," her private secretary, Willem van Tets, interposed.

"How?" Juliana asked quickly. Mr. Van Tets shrugged.

"We had word a while ago that he was very thin," he said simply.

RED CROSS NOW HELPING

"Health conditions," she continued, "are terrible. There is a terrific epidemic of diphtheria, and diseases like tuberculosis are shooting up. There is little medicine, and many doctors have been arrested. And the Germans have stolen so much. . . ."

"Looted," suggested Mr. Van Tets.

"Yes," she agreed. "Looted is a better word. Plundering."

Juliana is president of the Netherlands Red Cross, but as only the International Red Cross can work in occupied countries, she has set up a London committee of which she is president. She works through this and through Canadian, American and other branches of it.

"About the Red Cross in Holland now," she observed, "we know very little. What they do I don't know. I" and she smiled sadly, "am disposed of long ago by the Germans. I am fired by them, but I think it is more of a compliment than anything else."

A HOME FOR DUTCHMEN

As one with no function in the Dutch government, Juliana said she could not discuss such matters as Holland's postwar plans or relations, but she chatted freely of the time she devotes to Dutch fliers being trained in Canada and in Jackson, Miss., (most of whom escaped from the Netherlands East Indies and are being sent back to the Pacific) and of her work with the Dutch merchant marine, members of which drift up by twos and tens to sit down with her, have a glass of sherry, and look at their godchild.

"It is a home they know," she says. "Their families are all in Holland. They haven't been home for four years now. They have no way of relaxation like people in unoccupied countries have, although many people try to provide something for them. It's never the same."

"They have changed ships, and survived ships many times and are in permanent danger. They carry this on. They are our hope."

Not long ago she visited the Jackson, Miss., fliers on a trip to Dutch Guiana, her first visit to any part of the Dutch kingdom. ("Possessions," she corrects you swiftly, "is a word we never use.")

MEETS ALL NATIONALITIES

"Always before," she says, "I had been planning to go to the East Indies, but it took about half a year, and always there was an economic crisis, or I was getting married or I had babies, and when I first came here, it was not safe to go anywhere."

There she found Creoles, Indians. "What do you call the black man—negroes?" about 30,000 Javanese, Hindustanis, a few Chinese, and a few white families, the headman of one Indian tribe making a two-week safari over water and through jungle to see her. She found them all waiting and smiling for her.

Several statements in the press annoy Juliana. One is the belief that she has a lady-in-waiting.

ANSWERS QUEEN'S CRITICS

"I have no lady-in-waiting," she says firmly. Mme. Martine Roell, an old friend who has a daughter, Renee, the age of Beatrix, the oldest little princess, lives with her, as does Miss Sophie Feith, a noblewoman who is also a trained nurse and cares for the children when ill. As every one else, all have just emerged from having influenza.

"Then there is that nonsense people say about us," Juliana adds. "We've had on the average of four Americans a year offering to sell us their estates in the United States—when every penny counts."

"About my mother they say such nonsense. They say my mother is very stuffy and conservative, and she is awfully open minded."

"They say she always bosses me. She'd rather burn her fingers than do that. It's always like that. They say my mother has chosen the names of my children, and she couldn't possibly do that. She leaves every one alone. Imagine people saying she owns an apartment building in Washington. Sometimes it makes you mad the things you read."

No visit with Juliana is complete without a sudden patter of footsteps and the entrance of two blue-eyed, flaxen haired little girls in smocked blue dresses, a black cocker spaniel romping at their heels.

Beatrix, six years old, is gay, talkative, and utterly unself-conscious. Irene, who is four, is shy. They speak exquisite English tinged with American idiom, and carry on an animated conversation with the visitor.

HER DOLL GETS TIRED

Beatrix, having whispered for her mother's permission, then races away to return with a new doll. Breathlessly she explains its charms—its yellow hair "like mine," its blue eyes "that close," its squeaking m-m-m, its ruffled white organdy dress that she (Beatrix) washed. She is as proud of the doll as if it were the most beautiful doll in the world, which it is by no means, and refuses to put it to bed at night for fear of rumpling its cheap little dress.

"Poor thing," she sighs in the genuine sorrow of childhood, "she must get very tired too. I have a feeling she plays with the things on my night table while I'm asleep."

Then, with a slight frown, "I suppose some American dolls sit up all night too?"

"Oh, yes," she was assured. "Many."

With this assurance of American participation is the only kingdom she now knows—that of childhood—she raced away for luncheon.

You get the impression that the placard on the driveway—beyond which the so-called lady-in-waiting was hanging clothes on the line—was right. In the rented House of Orange children play. Neither they nor their rather lonely young mother seem there for pity.

Records Fall As Wings Smother Rangers 12-2

Coast Hockey Heads In Session Sunday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Just before the Pacific Coast Senior Hockey League schedule began last fall, two of the six teams were so weak there were suggestions they should amalgamate to provide at least a bit of opposition for the other teams.

The two teams, now not so weak, are the only ones still operating in the riddled circuit. They are Vancouver St. Regis and New Westminster Lodestars.

The crack Sea Island R.C.A.F. Sea Hawks dropped out of the league under the air force ban. Then the army ruling forced Nanaimo Army Commanders to leave the league. Victoria Machinery Depot, deprived of several soldier players, folded. Finally, Victoria Navy decided to quit because of player transfers.

Jack Ryan of Nanaimo, league president, said Thursday the executive will meet at Nanaimo on Sunday to decide future plans and added these will be contingent upon decisions made at the C.A.H.A. executive meeting at Toronto Saturday.

It is likely New Westminster and Vancouver will tangle in a series to decide a finalist against Trail Smokeeaters for the British Columbia title. Ryan said it may be possible the C.A.H.A. may decide to clean up the Allan Cup playoffs a month earlier than usual and in that event the B.C. teams will have a comfortable margin of time to decide a champion.

Meanwhile, Lodestars who have beaten Vancouver in each meeting since the circuit has been reorganized, will play St. Regis at New Westminster Saturday and at Vancouver Monday. These games are billed only to keep the teams in shape.

A meeting of the K.V.'s Athletic Association will be held to night in the Liberal headquarters, Broughton Street, at 8. All members are urged to attend as important business will be discussed.

Howe Sets Up Scoring Mark With Six Goals

Syd Howe seems determined to prove that the first 200 goals are the hardest. He made it look that way last night, scoring six goals to establish a National League record as Detroit Red Wings routed New York Rangers 12 to 2 before 8,147 spectators. The result shunted the rehabilitated Red Wings into sole possession of second place, two points ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Howe scored his goals in pairs, connecting 18 seconds apart in the first period, 62 seconds apart in the second and within 57 seconds in the final. This rapid work was in sharp contrast with the plodding fashion in which he reached the 200-goal mark through 10 seasons with three N.H.L. clubs.

The 32-year-old Perth, Ont., centre who now works in a Detroit war plant, thus stands in the hallowed company of a dozen or so N.H.L. greats headed by Nels (Old Poison) Stewart, who is generally estimated to have scored 323 goals. Howe's total of 207 goals is exceeded among players still active only by Harvey (Busher) Jackson of Boston Bruins, now edging toward 250.

In accomplishing the double hat trick, Howe smashed a league record of five goals established in 1917 by Harry Hyland of Montreal Wanderers and equaled by Howe's own Charlie Conacher, Pit Lepine and Ray Gelfing of Montreal Canadiens, who did it last year.

Carl Liscombe got two goals, and Don Grosso, Cully Simon, Mud Bruneteau and Flash Hollett one each for Detroit. The Rangers didn't connect until Detroit had a 9 to 0 margin. Finally, with six minutes remaining, Buck McDonald flipped in the first Ranger goal. Fernand Gauthier got another a few minutes later.

ANOTHER RECORD

Besides his goal, Grosso had six assists for a total of seven points, in each instance equaling a league record. Moreover, Bruneteau's score was his 26th goal of the season, which is a Detroit production record.

The scoring surge, following Detroit's record 15 to 0 triumph over the Rangers a fortnight ago, gave the Wings a total of 50 goals in seven games against New York this season.

All but three of Detroit's 13 players figured in the scoring. Ken McAuley handled 39 chances in the Ranger nets, compared to 21 by Dion, who has lost only once in nine starts.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, Detroit, Liscombe (Hollett, Kilrea), 7:15; 2, Detroit, Howe (Grosso), 11:27; 3, Detroit, Howe (Jackson, Grosso), 11:45. Penalty: Hollett.

Second period — 4, Detroit, Howe (Simon), 17:52; 5, Detroit, Howe (Grosso), 18:54; 6, Detroit, Simon, 19:36.

Third period — 7, Detroit, Bruneteau, 3:03; 8, Detroit, Howe (Bruneteau, Grosso), 8:17; 9, Detroit, Howe (Bruneteau, Grosso), 9:14; 10, New York, B. McDonald (K. MacDonald, Hexall), 13:57; 11, Detroit, Grosso (Jackson, Carveth), 15:45; 12, New York, Gauthier (Aubuchon, Mahaffy), 16:09; 13, Detroit, Hollett (Armstrong), 18:36; 14, Detroit, Liscombe (Grosso, Carveth), 19:22.

By PETE SALLAWAY

SOCCER in Britain has a good many followers in Victoria. Before the war curtailed playing schedules and robbed famous English and Scottish eleven of the majority of their brightest stars, the results of league matches every Saturday were of great interest to many local citizens. Pools were operated and we well remember how our phone buzzed regularly as the fans anxiously awaited the outcome of the more important engagements.

Today we were handed an interesting article on the career of Stanley Matthews, being heralded as one of the greatest players ever developed in England. The author is Al McKinnon, who had the pleasure of watching Matthews perform while in Britain with the Canadian army. McKinnon writes as follows:

"In Britain today there is a name that will take its place in the soccer hall of fame along with the Merediths, Cromptons, Dixie Deans, Walkers, Alex James and Allan Mortons. And down through the years, wherever football fans foregather, great tales will ring its praise.

"The name is Stanley Matthews. Signing his first professional form at the age of 17 for Stoke City, he is now back with his first love after an absence of three years. A wartime ruling permitting a player to turn out for any club (without transfer), amount of travel, gave Blackpool the lucky break of having the bulk of this marvelous services.

"Unanimously considered by experts as the greatest winger of all time, he is truly an amazing athlete. Slightly above medium height and built on card lines, his greatest asset is his uncanny ball-control. This, combined with exceptional speed, split-second judgment, and marvelous dribbling, make him a source of bewilderment to the best defence in Britain.

"I had the privilege of watching this bright star twinkle on two notable occasions. Being a Scot, the first brought a touch of regret along with admiration, and amazement. England beat Scotland 4 to 0 at Hampden Park, Glasgow, and the things Stan did to a Scottish defence that day must still bring a twinge of misery to even those stout hearts.

The second, I could admire the Matthews wizardry without any national heart-burnings. Blackpool were playing the famous Arsenal machine in the equivalent of the English Cup. Down two goals in the first seven minutes, with Stanley performing incredible feats of magic on the wing, ran out winners by 4 to 2—an unforgettable game. So bewildering was his display that Leslie Compton, Arsenal left back, literally refused to go near him towards the finish.

"Not given to fancy sand dancing, he has no hesitation in beating a man twice if the play he has in mind is not properly set up. To see him, when a fullback elects to sit back and wait for him, is the football treat of a lifetime. From a distance of about eight yards, he calmly walks—actually walks—towards his opponent tapping the ball from toe to toe. Getting within touching distance there is a lightning twinkle of feet, an outside flick of the right foot and he is five yards past the hapless defender, and streaking for goal. He repeated this manoeuvre several times at Hampden and the crescendo moan of anguish from a hundred thousand Scottish throats almost rivaled the famous Hampden roar of victory. This roar has to be heard to be believed. It is simply overpowering.

"Matthews' name is a household word in England and there is a story leaving no doubt as to his popularity. When the Stoke management were once toying with the not unreasonable thought of selling him for much coin of the realm, the townsfolk held a mass indignation meeting in the town hall. The outcome of this was that if such a mercenary idea were carried out, the Stoke team in future would be playing to an audience comprised of the trainer and water boy. Being a simple financial matter of multiplication and subtraction, Stan is still the property of Stoke.

"Perhaps the ultimate in praise is expressed in the reply of a Glasgow football fan when queried as to Stanley's greatness. 'Aye,' he said, 'dourly, he's the grandest of them all, but a' don't know if he's any better than wee Allan Morton at his best.' If perchance you know your real Glasgow fan, and, wee Allan Morton, no further words need be added to the brilliance of this wonder footballer."

Big Strike in Chicago

Baseballers Worried

Player Shortage Acute

NEW YORK (AP)—The climax of the conversational, or "hot stove" baseball season will be reached this week-end when the leading figures of the game gather here for the first meeting of baseball's postwar planning committee and for the annual Writers' Association.

The conversational league already has had something more than just spring training drills on the basis of pessimistic utterances.

Last week Sam Breadon, the Cardinals' boss, shocked by the loss of his star shortstop, Martin Marion, expressed doubt that the Cards would have enough manpower to continue through the 1944 season. After listening to a few blistering retorts from other major league magnates, Breadon reversed his stand, just as Brooklyn's Branch Rickey had previously done.

Later Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians, drew a similar barrage of replies by stating that he would prefer closing his ball park to making the game a "farce" by presenting baseball of inferior quality.

These statements, however, led to the general belief that postwar problems may be subordinated to more immediate problems when the planning committee meets Saturday. The player shortage is becoming more acute daily and it seems likely that steps will be taken to simplify the cumbersome procedure for trading players after the June 15 deadline in order that clubs may quickly fill any unexpected gaps in their lineups.

In addition to the planning committee meeting, the International and Eastern Leagues will hold their annual meetings Tuesday.

Rovers Register Surprise Victory In Table Tennis

Second division table tennis play was marked this week by the surprise victory of the Rovers, only all-girl squad in the circuit, over H.M.C.S. Givenchy. The match was close all the way with Thelma Brown and Marg Ballard winning the crucial doubles game from Ross and Moss. It was the first defeat suffered by the sailors since league play opened in October.

Mary Hill R.C.A. continued in first place in the team standings, scoring a decisive victory over the fifth place Prince Robert House squad. Houle and LaRocque each won seven games for the Army. Betty Reid was best for the losers.

Chinese Youth Association took over second place, defeating the Eollywood Club. The win put the Chinese two points ahead of Givenchy.

In earlier matches the Rovers scored impressive wins over the Hollywood Club and Prince Robert House.

Durocher Expects To Attend Training

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Leo (Lippy) Durocher, in the doghouse for keeping Dodger president Branch Rickey mystified about his managerial status, on Thursday said he most probably would be on hand at Bear Mountain, N.Y., when the Dodgers open spring training March 12.

Durocher said the possibilities of getting overseas were diminishing day by day.

Rickey said Wednesday in New York that he had to know if Durocher would be available or else he would have to find another manager.

Leo, who has been touring army camps in Florida told an audience of soldier fans at Macdill Field near here that "the Dodgers will open their training camp in a month and I most probably will be on hand."

The Lip said he wanted to tour camps overseas, adding, however, that it was getting so late that he would prefer to have the trip "postponed until next fall."

WIN FOR SALICA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lou Salica, former bantamweight champion, won over Larry Torpey Thursday night by a technical knockout in the seventh round of a scheduled eight-round bout.

Salica started cutting up Torpey in the first round and was energetically working over Torpey's features when Referee Matt Adge decided the Philadelphia bantam had suffered enough.

Saturday Sports Program

Soccer, Rugby, Basketball

Soccer, rugby and basketball will occupy the sports spotlight tomorrow with first-class matches scheduled. At the Athletic Park, starting at 2.30, league-leading R.A.F. will tackle the Victoria Machinery Depot in a first division football engagement. The rugby offering will be the Cowichan Cup final between the Army and R.A.F. at Macdonald Park, starting at 2.30. Basketballers will present an intercity league fixture between Vancouver Lauries and the Army at the High School gym, starting at 9.

With two stiff practices under their belts the V.M.D. will be pointing for their first triumph of the season over the R.A.F., first half winners and undefeated leaders in the second portion of the schedule. Following their 4 to 2 win over the second division club, Wednesday afternoon, the R.A.F. are in the pink for this important match.

Second division soccer games for Sunday follow: East Indians vs. Saanich Indians at Bullen Park; V.M.D. vs. R.A.F. at Heywood Avenue. Kickoffs at 2.30. Although they will be missing Fred Smith, Alan Rhodes, Sparks, Dick George and Van Druten the Army are still confident of upsetting the R.A.F. in the cup rugby final. Smith and George are laid up with injuries, while the other three are absent from these parts although it is possible Van Druten will be available.

With the league and B.C. club titles to their credit the troops are determined to make it three straight. The R.A.F. will present a strong line-up, bolstered considerably by Rees, crack English star recently arrived at the station.

A preliminary game between Victoria College and Oak Bay High Intermediates will start at 1.30.

With their first victory marked up last week-end at the expense of Lauries, the Army basketballers are out to make it two straight when they hook up with the mainlanders again. While the Army plays at home the R.C.A.F. Gremlins will be on the mainland for a league tilt against Varsity Thunderbirds. To date the Gremlins are undefeated in the circuit.

R.A.F. Soccer — Cooke, Witham, Braddock, Boulter, Hardwick, Dunphy, Brumby, Windus, Richman, Cox and Davison.

Film Drinking Scenes Hit By Presbyterial

Deletion from films of drinking scenes considered dangerous propaganda, was urged today at the final meeting of the 18th annual session of the Victoria and Island Presbyterian, Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada.

In a resolution the meeting urged more strict attention by the board of censors to drinking scenes, and recommended that the local theatres present more suitable films for children on Saturdays.

A second resolution urged the Dominion government to amend the present immigration laws to permit accessible anti-Nazi refugees from Europe to enter Canada.

The passing of this resolution followed a discussion during which it was said there were many anti-Nazi refugees in Spain and other neutral countries.

Miss Edith Hopkins, costumes; Mrs. F. W. Laing, library and special objects; and Mrs. F. R. Jewkes, Christian stewardship and finance.

Fisher Appeal Scheduled Feb. 16

The Milton D. Fisher appeal against conviction at Victoria's last assizes on a charge of carnal knowledge of a young girl, for which he was sentenced to three and one-half years, will come before the Court of Appeal Feb. 16, according to a ruling made by the court today.

The confused condition of the case became more complicated today with announcement new counsel, Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., had been engaged to handle the appeal.

Thursday afternoon the appeal was put on the pre-emptory list for today.

C. W. Banton, who has represented C. L. McAlpine, K.C., in efforts to have the matter transferred to the Vancouver sitting of the court in March, said today he had not received instructions to argue the appeal. Fisher, he said, had engaged new counsel. Mr. Wismer, who had accepted the case, was engaged in the Hawken murder trial in Vancouver and could not leave for at least five days, he said.

In reply to the court Mr. Banton said the accused had been convicted Oct. 7 last, had been sentenced Nov. 16 and had been out on bail since the latter date.

PUBLIC REACTION
Mr. Justice O'Halloran drew the attention of counsel to the situation now existing in which a man convicted of carnal knowledge was at large in the locality months after the conviction. What, he asked, must be the opinion of the people in that community?

Mr. Banton and Mr. Wismer's Victoria agent both asked that the case be transferred.

W. H. M. Haldane, who appears for the crown respondent, submitted to the remarks of Mr. Justice O'Halloran, but noting they appeal's merits should be brought to the court's attention.

If the case were transferred, he believed the motion to introduce new evidence should be argued in Victoria.

Mr. Banton, in reply to Mr. Sloan's question, said the new evidence covered the statement made by Fisher at his trial, and constituted the main body of the appeal.

"We have decided this case shall be heard at this court," Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, presiding, said when the court returned. "That is a position from which we do not intend to recede." However, he added, recognizing the realities in the case, the court was prepared to give new counsel time to appear. To give him time the case was adjourned until Feb. 16 at 11.

City Light Budget $8,300 Over 1943

Approval of city light department estimates, approximately $8,300 above those of last year, will be sought from the City Council in estimates committee by the lights committee, it was disclosed with filing of the departmental budget Thursday.

Total expenditures this year are listed at $37,829, including $13,749 in salaries, $23,080 maintenance and $2,000 cluster light maintenance. A frontage levy covers the $2,000 figure.

Last year actual expenditure amounted to $29,528, including $13,283 in salaries, $14,646 in maintenance and $1,599 in cluster lights.

The increase this year is required mainly to meet extra costs entailed by lifting of dim-out regulations.

Salvage Corps Sells Rubber Bands
To pay the many costs of running the Salvage Corps of B.C., with the country now longer requiring rubber, has converted inner tubes into elastic bands, so badly missed in many offices, stores and homes in the past three years.

The bands are being sold by the hundred and can be bought at the office of the corps at 1218 Government Street. They are prepared by voluntary workers without expense and the money is paid into British Bunkles.

Mail orders prepaid will be accepted.

Letters From the Front

Lieut. Victor C. Moore... Had breakfast in bed.

CHRISTMAS IN ITALY

Lieut. Victor C. Moore, son of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. F. W. L. Moore, 3249 Quadra Street, went overseas with the Canadian Scottish Regiment from Victoria in 1941, spent two years in England training, and left England late last year to be attached to the British North African force. He writes from the Italian front:

"Christmas morning — breakfast in bed."
"The way we worked it was to cook our own food at our quarters and then have one of officer from each room pick it up for the lucky ones still in bed. Just a snack — but a boiled egg! Supplemented, of course, by many nuts and raisins, with which I had surrounded myself."
"Then a dash to hear a carol service (or sing one, rather) in the old Fascist headquarters, standing in what has been named 'Maple Leaf Gardens'... Rode in-state back to our billet in a little horse-drawn cab..."

"The big event was our dinner at 2 o'clock. For the occasion we had hired a local 'ristorante,' Champagne in the garden, then hors-d'oeuvres (some very tasty pickled artichokes), some 'maccharoni' what-not, chicken (elderly, but substantial), fruit, and a sweet, with vino, red and white. Part way through an orchestra turned up — fiddles and guitars played by local people (we recognized a barber who had shaved us the other day among them). 'Ave Maria,' 'Santa Lucia,'... and tunes from the Italian operas."

"The lights went out half way through, but we made shift with match boxes and candles, and, meanwhile, our Scottish quartette gave our customary rendition of 'Glenwhorple Highlanders.' A very good show, seeing what difficulties there are in a place like this."

A few days later he writes: "Today we are camped in the open. The others have heated up a can of stew and some beans. A cold north wind is sitting through the olive trees, so something hot is very welcome."

"Italy is not sunny Italy to us. We have been wondering when the time for touring is. It certainly is not now..."

Elite Guards to Stem Revolt in Berlin?

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Regiments of the Nazis SS (Elite) guard have been rushed to Berlin as the result of thousands of leaflets being circulated among soldiers of the Berlin garrison urging a revolt against the Hitler regime, the newspaper, Aftonbladet, said today in quoting a private report from the German capital.

The newspaper report, considered here with reserve, did not say where the pamphlets originated.

It said they asked: "Will Berlin be a symbol for the whole German people?" and continued: "Save Berlin. Save the German people. Only peace can end the air raid. Only Hitler and his gang oppose peace. You must destroy Hitler and his cohorts. You have weapons. Use them."

F.D.R. Hopes Policy On Spain Working

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt told a press radio conference today Britain and the United States are working together to see that Spain remains neutral in the true sense of the word.

"Is that effort working?" a reporter asked.

The chief executive said he did not know and could only say he hoped so.

Asked whether there had been any change in relations with Spain, or any new developments, the President said nothing had come to him but that inquiries might be made at the State Department. He said the situation provides a good many headaches.

(Word from Madrid Thursday night reaffirmed Spain's position of strict neutrality.)

Owen Cathcart-Jones Ordered Out of U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Owen Cathcart-Jones, former R.C.A.F. squadron leader, has been ordered deported, Albert del Guercio, District Director of Immigration, announced today.

The government charged he overstayed his visitor's permit, on which he entered the United States in 1942 to be a technical adviser on a motion picture about the R.C.A.F.

He was a witness in the 1943 trial of actor Eroll Flynn on charges of statutory rape of which Flynn was acquitted. Cathcart-Jones testified he had been a friend of Peggy Satterlee, one of Flynn's accusers, and had given her money and clothing.

Word of Victorians In Shanghai Camps

News, compiled from reports of the Far East repatriates on the Gripsholm, of Mark King and his wife, has been received by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth King, 128 Montreal Street.

Letter from the Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, states: "Mr. King is interned at Haiphong Camp. He is in good health. He is the best entertainer in the camp. His hobbies are Chinese and sports. He plays softball and plays well for a beginner. Mrs. King is interned in Ash Camp. She is in good health. She works in the representatives office."

Both camps are in Shanghai where Mr. King was a member of the Shanghai Municipal Police before the Japanese occupation.

Commerce Chamber Scores Wage Order

"Most vicious act ever placed before the public," said Walter Luney, as he criticized the wartime wage control order at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday afternoon.

"The act gives this three-man board powers so unjust and un-British that its enforcement should be delayed. It is totally at variance with our concepts of British justice," said Major Cuthbert Holmes.

J. N. Anderson said it was an attack upon business as well as labor.

Decision was made by the directors to request — Ottawa to delay proceeding with enforcement under clauses of the order.

Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said the Victoria Ministerial Association Monday at 12.15 in the Y.W.C.A.

Social Security Committee to Report on Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister King in the Commons this afternoon moved a resolution for appointment of a committee to examine and report on a national plan of social security "which will constitute a charter of social security for the whole of Canada." The motion was adopted.

It is similar to the one which set up the House of Commons committee last year.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said the Prime Minister should say whether it is intended to bring down "long-awaited legislation" on health insurance at the present session.

Mr. King said this would depend on the progress of Parliamentary business.

P. E. Wright, C.C.F., Melfort, Sask., a member of last year's committee, said the C.C.F. group believed any health insurance scheme should cover all persons and the provinces should not have the option of excluding any particular income group. Also, the medical services should be the same in all provinces and should comprise a complete health service, free to all.

RECONSTRUCTION

Mr. King also moved for appointment of a committee on reconstruction and re-establishment, and this motion, too, was adopted.

Mr. Graydon said the government should arrange for committee reports to be debated before the end of the session. The Reconstruction Committee report should be brought down in reasonable time so there would be time for full discussion.

He expressed hope the report of the war expenditures committee on last year's work would be available for discussion at this session.

Couple Acquitted

EDMONTON (CP) — Charges of homicide against Charles Stack, 40, and Irene Thomas, 35, in connection with the death Jan. 14 of Raymond C. Jevne of Entwistle, Alta., were dismissed in police court today by Magistrate A. Millar. Charges of theft and vagrancy preferred against Miss Thomas, together with one count of theft against Stack, also were dismissed. Jevne was found dead in his burning automobile by police, called by Stack.

'MR. LUCKY' GETS DRAFTED—TO KNIT!—When Cary Grant volunteers to aid the women's war-relief service, he does not bargain to play a handful of knitting-needles—but knit he does! The amusing scene is from RKO Radio's hit picture, "Mr. Lucky," in which Cary is starred, with Laraine Day featured opposite him as the other end of a very pleasing romance, and is being shown at the York Theatre.

Mayhew Projects For Reconstruction Here Endorsed
Postwar reconstruction projects for Victoria as proposed by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., were unanimously endorsed by directors of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday. Kenneth Drury, as chairman of the chamber's rehabilitation committee and member of the federal advisory committee under Selective Service, told the directors that the projects had been endorsed unanimously by both these organizations.

The Mayhew projects include: 1. Completion of the Esquimalt wharves. 2. Construction of a new city airport. 3. Development of the Bagan Bay civil airport adjoining Patricia Bay as a major base for transcontinental and trans-oceanic airline services. 4. Reservation of Gordon Head military camp site by the Dominion to make it available as a civil airport for inter-city air traffic. 5. Construction of the George-Esquamet canal to open up the upper part of the harbor by constructing the outer wing of the breakwater. 6. Outer dock changes to be prepared for resumption of trans-Pacific shipping.

"Mr. Mayhew has taken these proposals to Ottawa and says he has reason to believe he can put them through," said Mr. Drury. "His hands are being strengthened at Ottawa by the support that is being accorded him by expressions from other organizations in Victoria. I would ask that this board give a similar expression of its support."

Walter Luney urged that the governments come to some decision about the locations of the new federal building and the court house. Mr. Drury said that neither of these were included in the list of Mayhew projects now under consideration.

Urges More Doctors For Africa Missions
Emphasizing the need for more doctors and nurses in Africa, Miss Ann Copthorne, B.N., said Thursday afternoon 100 per cent of the natives of Angola, where she had served as a nurse, suffered from malaria, and 20 per cent were afflicted with leprosy.

"The infant mortality rate is 60 per cent in Angola, compared to one-tenth of 1 per cent in Canada," she said in her address to the 18th annual meeting of the United Church of Canada Victoria and Island Presbyterial of the Woman's Missionary Society at First United Church. Miss Copthorne, now doing postgraduate study at Vancouver General Hospital, said every conceivable disease was rampant in Angola. She described the medical work of her mission at Camundongo, which is 300 miles inland, at an altitude of 4,500 feet. The nearest doctor, she said, was 65 miles away.

Following reports on mission circles, C.G.I.T., Mission Band and Baby Band, Mrs. A. Swainson in a report on temperance work, urged a more vigorous program to combat drunkenness and juvenile delinquency.

She referred to the annual report of Chief J. A. McLean of the Victoria police, who noted an increase in the number of cases of drunkenness in Victoria in 1943, despite liquor rationing, and to the annual B.C. government report on liquor sales during the fiscal year ending last March. Delegates were assured they need not be alarmed at postwar immigration policies, because settlers brought to Canada would be picked from northern European countries.

Mrs. C. Goodwin sang a new song, "The American's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. W. G. H. Firth at the piano. In the absence of Mrs. J. S. Muldrew, Rev. J. C. Jackson led the evening round-table discussion. He also introduced visiting missionaries, and extended the greetings of the church presbytery.

Williams Warns V.D. Now Canada's No. 1 Health Problem

At least 300,000 Canadians have syphilis and two out of three of this number don't know they have it, said Lt.-Col. D. H. Williams, venereal disease control officer for the Department of National Defence, as he left here for Ottawa following a conference at the Parliament Buildings with Dr. G. F. Amyot, head of the provincial board of health.

Lt.-Col. Williams is also chief of the division of V.D. control, Department of Pensions and National Health, Ottawa. Before his services were drafted by the federal authorities, he was practicing in B.C. and as director of the division of V.D. control, Provincial Board of Health, gained prominence for the drive he launched against prostitution here.

"V.D. is Canada's major health problem," Col. Williams said. "One-tenth of the 300,000 Canadians who have it will die of syphilis of the heart and brain."

"Among the armed forces personnel, V.D. originates with the civilian population. Although the armed forces have cut their venereal disease rate in half, Canada's four largest cities have recently reported marked increases in infection. The community breeding grounds of V.D.—brothels, red-light districts, certain beer parlors and dance halls—must be cleaned up."

"Existing recreational facilities, though excellent in quality, are not enough. There is great need for extension of these facilities, particularly at week-ends. The armed forces have a scientific program to fight V.D., including blood tests on enlistment and on admission to hospital; rapid, modern methods of treatment; streamlined educational procedures, and collection of data on civilian contacts which spread the disease to the armed forces.

"The armed forces are fighting V.D. on four fronts. Medical of-

Mrs. Hodges Deplores Teachers' Low Salaries

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal Coalition, Victoria, in the Legislature Thursday urged that immediate steps be taken to increase teachers' salaries, old-age pensions, low civil service salaries and to establish day nurseries.

"It is true this government has made generous grants for teachers' salaries," she said, "but I still feel that in the whole field of semipublic service there is no more important person in our whole economy than the teacher, who has charge of our greatest assets, the citizens of tomorrow."

"I feel they should be paid salaries more commensurate with the importance of the job they are doing."

The time is long overdue, Mrs. Hodges said, for establishment of nursery schools, or day nurseries, especially nowadays, when women are being lured into war industries on one hand, and on the other "our housing conditions are so appalling" that many women at home have not proper facilities to adequately and properly care for their children.

PITTSANCE

Mrs. Hodges said the "irksome restrictions" regarding old age pensions should be removed, so that elderly people will not be bound by "these iniquitous limitations."

"I don't see how many of these old people manage to exist at all on the miserable pittance that is doled out to them," she said.

The Victoria member said it is time for a readjustment in civil service salaries—"injustices in brackets." She said civil servants in these brackets deserve a little more consideration. She spoke particularly for increases in salaries of persons in lower income brackets employed by the Liquor Control Board, especially in view of the $28,000,000 liquor business done last year.

"Their salaries should be more commensurate with the volume of business done," she said.

When rehabilitation of returned men and women is considered, Mrs. Hodges said she hoped the cost would not be taken into consideration—that the men who have gone to fight didn't consider the possible cost to them.

"I hope we shall not be stopped by dollars and cents," she said.

WEST COAST ROAD

Mrs. Hodges asked the Minister of Public Works not to forget the West Coast Road in his postwar plans. She regretted it is not shown in the $210,000,000 road plan he is submitting to Ottawa.

"If this island is going to be the magnet for tourists, I think it will, we must be able to go up and down the coast," she said.

She deplored last summer's desecration of the Malahat Highway by logging near the summit. She said she had seen the damage just a few days ago, and has come to the conclusion everyone driving over the highway should wear blinkers so they could not see the way the scenery has been ruined.

Speaking of postwar planning, Mrs. Hodges said she was glad to see a committee of the cabinet would be in charge of reconstruction, although she would have preferred to see a ministry of reconstruction directly under the premier. She said she understood the committee would be composed of the Ministers of Public Works (Hon. H. Anscomb), Education (Hon. H. T. Perry), Trade and Industry (Hon. E. C. Carson), and the Provincial Secretary (Hon. George S. Pearson).

No Immediate Socialism Says Opposition Leader

Opposition Leader Harold Winch, in the Legislature Thursday, said the C.C.F. stands for:

1. Full employment.
2. Continuous production, unbroken by recurrent crises.
3. Democratic participation by the people in the control of the economy of the country.
4. An expanding national income.
5. An equitable distribution to all the people of the goods and services produced by all the people.
6. A comprehensive system of social security.

"It is our responsibility as the Parliament of British Columbia to see that employment is such as will give an adequate standard of living," Mr. Winch said. "There can be no return to the prewar depression levels."

DYNAMIC SOCIETY

He said the C.C.F. contends that "we must build a dynamic progressive society which must provide opportunity for all the people to build and work cooperatively in an environment of democratic equality and fellowship and to participate fully and freely in the development of their own society. In other words, the people must become partners and not spectators. Nothing less than such an objective can or should satisfy us. Just as the present war has given us an objective towards which our country is straining every effort, so peace must be given positive meaning by a united determination to achieve this dynamic, progressive society."

Mr. Winch said the C.C.F. realizes the change to Socialism cannot be done overnight, that the C.C.F. program has been drafted from a practical viewpoint, with a knowledge of the constitution, and the various fields of jurisdiction "in order to achieve, step by step, progressive action through the requisite transitional period from the old to the new."

"A C.C.F. government, be it provincial or national, would not institute socialism immediately, as our opponents would lead people to believe, but we would definitely proceed with the first steps designed to meet the requirements of the people and to lay the foundation which will mean the ultimate establishment of an economy based on socialist principles," said Mr. Winch.

Mr. Winch called for expansion of social services, mainly health and education, which would represent increased employment and purchasing power through expansion of personnel and new equipment.

He said the C.C.F. program includes, auxiliary services, provost corps and chaplain services are waging a vigorous battle against the disease. But to be successful, they need the support of their colleagues in civilian life."

calls for "transfer to public ownership of revenue-producing industries," economic result of which would be ultimate, if not immediate, increase of revenue to the province.

HEALTH RESOURCES

Mr. Winch asked for government development of "the great natural health resources lying dormant in this province." He said the source of wealth that, if developed with the same scientific fervor given to other branches of medicine, would draw the eyes of the world to British Columbia and open the doors to opportunities for reconstruction and industrial programs that could scarcely be overestimated.

He said such resources are so widely distributed and of such a varied character that there are few parts of the world where they can be paralleled.

Postwar Period Here For Returning Men

The postwar period is here already as far as men returning from war is concerned, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.P.A., told the Kinsmen Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday night when she discussed government plans for rehabilitation of veterans.

"In Victoria alone, 150 men are returning every month to take their place in civilian life," she said, adding that 100,000 men had already been discharged from the Canadian army. "Our paramount thought must be winning the war, but we must not delay our plans for fitting the men coming back to peacetime life," she said.

Explaining that one of the problems of rehabilitation is the dovetailing of provincial plans with those of the federal government, Mrs. Hodges said: "We must take the best of each plan, integrate them and evolve a solution for what is a gigantic problem."

She outlined the plan whereby a committee composed of four ministers—of public works, of education, of trades and industry, and the Provincial Secretary—will form a cabinet to report directly to the Premier.

"I do feel personally that this method is better than having one minister," Mrs. Hodges said, pointing out the greater authority that would be available by this scheme.

LAND SETTLEMENT

Comparing last war's land settlement scheme, which she described as "disastrous," with current plans, the speaker said $6,000 would be allotted a farmer, who must be trained or experienced, to establish him in the years immediately following the armistice. The land would be more carefully chosen to be accessible to markets and a community center than it was before, thus avoid-

Resignation Request No Attack On Pearson

Labor's suggestion that Hon. G. S. Pearson, provincial Minister of Labor, resign from the chairmanship of the Regional War Labor Board is not made in criticism of his activities on that board, but in protest against Ottawa's new Wartime Wage Control Order, C. W. Marshall, president, and George A. Wilkinson, secretary, of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference said in a statement today.

The suggestion the minister leave the board will be made at a mass meeting sponsored by the conference at the Royal Victoria Theatre Sunday afternoon. When the resolution on the issue was discussed, the opinion was expressed B.C. organized labor's protest against the order would be strengthened if Mr. Pearson indicated his dissatisfaction with the order by tendering his resignation.

Labor groups, the two union officials said, felt the B.C. Department of Labor had been ignored in many clauses of the order despite the fact the province was one of the most progressive in industrial relations. Labor, they said, preferred the advanced B.C. legislation to any retrogressive measures Ottawa might introduce.
